Flickering indolence from place to place, visually or physically, is a noticeable thing to do. It provides both entertainment and enthusiasm a bright young thing kicking her heels up in Allie Young Hall or a pompous old crowd conscious of his superiority running a foreign government. Both provide a zest.

If asked to name the most cordially hated person in the world, I should answer without hesitation the kidnapper of Charles Mattson, 10 year old Washington youth. Kidnappers fail to adequately express the contempt the average American holds for such a skunk.

When one reaches the point that he begins to repeat phrases without realizing the fact there can't be much hope. Yet that's just what happened in an education class and by a senior. She woke up to the fact today after sixteen weeks of toil and labor! Mark up one for the underclassman!

Thoughts while strolling: The local college band certainly has proved its ability during the past football season. Wonder why we haven't heard more from them lately.

Out of the dawn of prehistoric times savagery gave place to the onslaught of pagan barbarism. In turn this yielded to a higher order of religion which embodied in its ranks the elements of the widespread belief that, to reach great heights in the progression of civilization, the birth of Christ was heralded as a new era; the realm of Christianity.

Today (approximately 1,800 years after) we have back to back the celebration of the universal belief and celebrate its advent each year on the twenty-ninth of the month of December (the Gregorian calendar). This anniversary brings with it each year a time of merriment and jubilation just as the Greeks and Romans (the Egyptians and all the rest too) celebrated their important deities with pagan festivals, so we too have made this celebration the most festive of all throughout the year.

Everywhere people are gay. The huge throngs mill happily, buying, giving, sending, receiving. Peace On Earth, Good Will Toward Men. Truly the spirit of brotherly love. The humbling, the great, the rich, the poor, at Christmas time all are raised to an equal-height of happiness. A spirit of brotherly love.

People smiling face soft looks, cakes and candies, toys everywhere, bright lights, the car hangs high. Santa Claus too, and girls glow stockings, girls' shining trinkets— even the little ragged kids (unhappy faces) beam with the spirit of Christmas. Even they bask in faith of the spirit of the round old, red-suited, white bearded gent who is their champion.

Now, two weeks past Christmas, all that had swarmed back to the dull, mechanism of the routine, the men who are certain is that round old, red-suited, white bearded old chap and with him is

Petty To Judge
Beauty Contest

Idea Is To Eliminate Campus Political Interference.

George Petty, well known artist and illustrator for Esquire, has been selected to select the most beautiful girl for this year's annual. The selection will be made in a manner somewhat different from that used in previous years.

Mr. Petty not only plans stress on a beautiful face but leans of toward the Greek idea of body culture.

It is hoped that some means can be devised whereby the contestants may be judged without the customary campus political interference. Any suggestions that might help in this selection may be left at the P. O. in care of R. K. Collins.

Many Issues Of College Magazine Left

The English Majors Club met Wednesday morning, January 6, discussed the sale of the current issue of the Quill and Quasar. Members are badly engaged in preparing their salesmanship, as the report showed that there are still a few copies which have not been sold.

All English major graduates have been urged to purchase the magazine, but as yet there have been few returns. Graduates are urged to buy their copies immediately.

Fifty copies of the magazine have been sent to surrounding high schools, where they were placed to best advantage.

Xmas Spirit Dead

Christians. The spirit of this is seen by all, it is spoken of, some try to stop it, as the old spirit slinks off into another year of hibernation. Would that it would remain through the whole year, the essence of living.
During the Christmas vacation it is at its high. Oh that it would be so forever! If it only would, was everybody would be willing to dismiss school forever. For with such spirit, school is not necessary. Such spirit is life itself.
It is gone. Two "gone" with the win.

Scholarships Offered

as "face" to those members of the class who, in the estimation of the appropriate committees are deserving of them. The selection of these prize-scholars will be made without reference to financial need, but the amount of the stipend awarded to each scholar will be in proportion to his actual necessities, except that a certain minimum award will be made to all prize scholars. In the event that a prize scholar has need of it, the amount of the award will be sufficient to cover his essential expense in the Medical School up to a maximum of $1,200.

The prize scholarship will be awarded for one year. If during the first year as a medical student a high honor record is maintained, the scholarship will be renewed for the remaining three years.

Since all applicants for admission to the Harvard Medical School are ipso facto candidates for Harvard Medical School Prize Scholarships, no special application is to be made. Holders of Harvard Medical School Prize Scholarships are not expected to marry while they are receiving this stipend.

Dean W. H. Vaughan ask that if any member of the College is interested in this scholarship they should see him as soon as possible.

may be taken with or without a certificate. The student should notice that the requirements for the degrees differ according to the type of degree and the type of certificate. The chief distinction between the Bachelor of Arts degree and the Bachelor of Science degree is the 60-hour requirement in science for the Bachelor of Science degree. There are also differences between the Bachelor of Arts degree with the Elementary certificate and the same degree with the high school certificates. There are accordingly eight distinct courses of study leading to the degree. Students should choose early in their college career which course they prefer to take.

SOPHOMORES TO HAVE CHARGE OF ASSEMBLY

The Sophomore Class will demonstrate its wonderful supply of natural resources when, under the guidance of Creed Grumbles, class president, it will take the helm of Friday's chapel program.
From all advance reports, the sophomore ops bids fair to be the hit of the season. A large number of class members will participate therein, and music, dancing, plays will be prominent features.

Little of the actual content of the program has been released as yet, except that the theme will be that of a radio program emanating from Science Hall.
